

Signposting system

The Radboud university medical center (Radboudumc) uses a signposting system with route numbers. Each department has its own route number. You will find information boards in Dutch stating the patient-related departments and their route numbers near the three central entrances. These route numbers enable you to follow the numbered signs from the entrance to the department in question. If you do not know the route number of the department you want to go to, please ask the department in advance.
